BARRETT LAW GROUP, P.A.
FIRM RESUME

Our Group

From its home office in Lexington, Mississippi, Barrett Law Group, P.A., represents clients and litigates cases throughout the country. From cases involving tobacco, antitrust, insurance scams, defective products and pharmaceuticals, and consumer fraud, the lawyers of Barrett Law Group, P.A. have secured billions of dollars for its clients.

You can find the lawyers of Barrett Law Group, P.A. in courtrooms as diverse as a Mississippi justice court and a federal appeals court. We fight for our clients regardless of the size of the case and without regard to the location of the courtroom.

At Barrett Law Group, P.A., we're continuing a tradition of excellent client service that began in 1839. In that year, a law firm began its practice, which Pat Barrett, Sr. joined in 1933. In 1969, Mr. Barrett welcomed his son, Don Barrett, into the practice. In 2007, Don Barrett started Don Barrett, P.A., which serves as the cornerstone of Barrett Law Group, P.A.

Barrett Law Group, P.A. is a group of two law firms located in Mississippi. The litigation group started with Don Barrett, P.A. of Lexington, Mississippi. A small town firm but with national reach, Don Barrett, P.A., joined with the Law Office of Richard Barrett of Oxford, Mississippi, to form Barrett Law Group, P.A. Together, the Barrett Law Group attorneys manage and litigate complex civil cases.

Don Barrett

Don Barrett is one of the preeminent trial lawyers in America and has achieved great success for thousands of clients. Mr. Barrett has been the leader of many large pieces of litigation including the Ford/Firestone MDL Litigation and the tobacco litigation that brought about the 1998 Master Settlement Agreement with the tobacco industry. Mr. Barrett was one of the focus points of the 2000 book Assuming the Risk: The Mavericks, The Lawyers, And The Whistle-Blowers Who Beat Big Tobacco by Michael Orey.

Richard Barrett

Richard Barrett practices in the areas of contract fraud, insurance litigation, oil and gas law, class actions, personal injury and environmental torts. He is a member American Bar Association and serves on that group's Toxic Tort Subcommittee. He was also a founding member of the Civil Justice Institute, which is a special task force in the Section of Litigation of the A.B.A. that provides solutions to current perceived problems with the present court system. He is also a member of The American Association for Justice, The National Trial Lawyers Association which has named him as one of the Top 100 Trial Attorneys in Mississippi for both 2010 and 2011, The Mississippi Bar Association, and Mississippi Association for Justice. He is currently responsible for both individual injury cases, as well as several mass tort cases, including cases with permanent injuries due to exposure to asbestos fibers and manganese gases from welding fumes.

Katherine Barrett Riley

Katherine Barrett Riley practices in the areas of personal injury, property, wills, estates, class actions and consumer fraud cases. She is currently serving as the City Attorney for the City of Lexington, Mississippi, as well as the attorney for the Holmes County Board of Supervisors. Mrs. Riley played an active role during the trial of Avery v. State Farm, which resulted in one of the largest verdicts ever against an insurance company and the largest verdict in Illinois history.

David McMullan

David McMullan is a native of Jackson, Mississippi. Mr. McMullan's practice is focused on complex civil litigation, including consumer class actions, insurance, environmental law and natural resources law. In addition to trying cases in State and Federal circuit courts, Mr. McMullan has successfully argued appellate cases before the Mississippi Court of Appeals, the Mississippi Supreme Court and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. Mr. McMullan practiced with a large Jackson Mississippi defense firm before joining BLG in 2002.

Sterling Starns

Sterling Starns practices with Don Barrett, P.A. in Lexington, Mississippi, where she focuses on representing consumers in individual cases and class actions for personal and economic injury. Ms. Starns is currently working on Bridgestone v. IBM, as well as multiple food misbranding cases. Ms. Starns also works in the area of antitrust, currently working on Autoparts MDL and numerous pharmaceutical related cases. Ms. Starns lives in Lexington, Mississippi, and serves as the Lexington Municipal Judge

Cary Littlejohn

Cary Littlejohn practices with Don Barrett P.A. in Lexington, M.S. where he focuses on representing individuals in individual and class action cases for economic injury. Mr. Littlejohn has played an integral role in Bridgestone v. IBM, as well as numerous food misbranding cases. While in law school, Mr. Littlejohn interned for Judge John McClarty of the Tennessee Court of Appeals, where he conducted legal research and drafted opinions in civil cases. Mr. Littlejohn also interned for the Nashville Public Defender's Office in Nashville, TN where he assisted in representing clients, conducted interviews, and conducted legal research. Mr. Littlejohn also served as an extern for the Knox County District Attorney's Office in his final year of law school. After law school, Mr. Littlejohn joined the Teach for America program and taught middle school English in a low income school in the Mississippi Delta.

Brandi Hamilton
